Here The Magic Begins

Words

Don't know how!

How to explain them.

Many times

the words that come out, come out all wrong.

and get comprehended differently

Its painful because no one understands what we really want to tell.

Don't know how

but most of the times,

Things said are not what they mean

sometimes we say out of frustration.

But who knows,

our words and actions

can unintentionally hurt

or maybe break hearts.

But the worst is when we realise what we have done.

we try our best

to set it right.

But Words once spoken cannot be taken back.

So mind what you say and how you say,

to whom you say and when you say,

and whether to say them all!
